Accreditation

Julie Walters from accreditation spoke about our new page of the DVC Website. To access the Dev Ed Committee page, go to www.dvc.edu; click on Faculty/Staff; then click on Governance (under the heading Governance); then in the far left column click on "Committees"; then in the far left column select "Other College Committees"; and then select our committee. Lots of clicks! We are asked to post our minutes and agendas, charge & function and goals & objectives. In order to upload, we send our documents to Mary Long. The purpose of the website page is to create awareness about college committees and what they are doing. There is also a new Committee Handbook. The website will serve as an accreditation resource as well. Every committee used to give an end-of-year report. Becky will create a new form for reports.

Julie provided the committee with a handout of the accreditation standards that relate to the Dev Ed Committee. Committee members should review for discussion at our next meeting.

RP Strengthening Student Success Conference

Kenyetta presented info on the RP Strengthening Student Success Conference. There is a team of 13 people attending, representing the Basic Skills Initiative (Developmental Education Committee, SSSP Committee, and Student Equity. The participants will share a summary at the November 16 Integrated Planning Meeting.

Proposal Updates & Presentations

DRWAC: Kris Koblick gave an update on the DRWAC proposal for SP16/FA17. Kris was very involved in Pathways and the Equity Hour in spring 2016 and wasn't active with the proposal. Laurie Fisher spearheaded efforts in reading and writing across the curriculum. There have been efforts to institutionalize the program. Faculty professional development is envisioned: a series of workshops for teachers teaching teachers how to employ reading and writing in every discipline. The project would use Canvas modules for developing reading and writing across the curriculum. Kris discussed a "survey suite" where the instructor survey is complete. For instructors, the survey asked what RWAC they currently employ while teaching and how do they currently teach that discipline's reading and writing. How to scaffold, structure support. For students, the survey asked what others courses each student is enrolled in and about their needs. This is ready to go but not yet completed. Follow up may be needed to help with implementation of the student survey. The workshops for instructors hasn't happened yet and Kris said she was really too busy to comfortably get this done in fall 2017 and asked for extra time which the committee granted through June 2018.

Library ESL Special Collection: Dan Kiely gave an update on the Adult Basic Ed Collection (ESL and other basic skill level reading) in the library. Over the summer he created a "special collection." The desire is to make the library more welcoming and easier for browsing. He was challenged with creating a variety of books. He named a few titles that fit nicely in this category. He thought he might come back in the spring to ask for another round of funding for this project.

Integrated Plan Update: Roadshows & Next Steps

The plan has been completed and submitted to President Ted Wieden for review before going to the Board.
