ONCE A WARRIOR: HOW ONE VETERAN FOUND NEW MISSION CLOSER TO HOME

Jake Wood is the co-founder and CEO of Team Rubicon, a nonprofit organization that utilizes the skills of military veterans to deploy disaster response teams. Under Woods leadership, Team Rubicon has responded to over 700 disasters since the 2010 Haiti earthquake of the century. Wood is leading veterans advocate who as brief President Obama on veterans' issues, met with former Presidents Bush and Clinton on disaster response and testified before the Senate. Wood is a former United States Marine who is also the author of Take Command and Once a Warrior, and is the 2018 recipient of the Pat Tillman Award for Service.
