Engagement Session Theme #1

Belonging, Connection, and Student Life

- Foster a welcoming campus culture where students feel connected, valued, and supported.
- Expand opportunities for engagement through clubs, student government, learning communities, and Guided Pathways centers.
- Integrate student life initiatives at both Pleasant Hill and San Ramon campuses.
- Support diverse student identities and experiences to strengthen belonging and persistence.

“DVC really gives students the sense that they want to help you.”

Students would like a “greater sense of community” among students on campus.

Students would like “more encouragement or a larger push to join clubs”.

Students would like the college to “provide more social events”.

Engagement Session Theme #2

Student Support, Well-Being, and Basic Needs

- Strengthen holistic student support by expanding access to mental health, physical health, basic needs, and technology resources.
- Improve communication so students understand available services early and can access support before challenges escalate.
- Address financial pressures and competing work obligations that affect retention and completion.

“There are a lot of students who don’t know about the resources that are available.”

Student input: “I wish faculty could have more empathy.”

Engagement Session Theme #3

Equity, DEI, and Accessibility

- Build on existing equity and accessibility efforts by establishing shared definitions and clear collegewide goals.
- Embed equity and DEI into daily practices, professional development, and decision-making processes.
- Continue focusing on closing access and success gaps across student populations.
- Provide sustained resources to support long-term equity work.

“Provide more education around diversity and have DEI be promoted on a larger scale. The DEI events we have are small.”

“Offer more creative ways to have DEI events – living DEI, not just talking about it.”

Students would like “instructors to have an improved level of awareness about what students’ realities are”.

Engagement Session Theme #4

Guided Pathways and the Student Journey

- Leverage Guided Pathways as the framework for a clear, coherent student experience from entry to completion.
- Strengthen program maps, advising tools, and onboarding processes.
- Improve coordination (reduce silos) across interest areas, centers, and student services.

“Finding information is like a scavenger hunt.”

Engagement Session Theme #5

Enrollment Management and Scheduling

- Align enrollment strategies with student demand and the Student Centered Funding Formula (SCFF).
- Develop coordinated, student-centered schedules across campuses, modalities, and disciplines.
- Balance access, retention, and fiscal sustainability through intentional scheduling decisions.
- Improve scheduling tools, data access, and planning processes.
- Clarify institutional priorities for dual enrollment, concurrent enrollment, distance education, and other college pathways as key strategies for access, equity, and enrollment growth.

Table Discussions

Engagement Session Themes (Part 1)

Through in-depth analysis of the qualitative input, ten distinct and interconnected themes emerged, summarizing key input from employees, students, and community members.

Belonging,
Connection, and Student Life

Student Support,
Well-Being, and Basic Needs

Equity, DEI, and Accessibility

Guided Pathways
and the Student Journey

Engagement Session Theme #6

Academic Program Innovation

- Balance general education, transfer, and CTE priorities within a unified institutional vision.
- Develop a cohesive strategy that aligns transfer and workforce programs with regional needs.
- Support innovation that responds to emerging labor market and student needs.
- Expand non-credit, community education, and short-term training pathways to broaden access.
- Expand internship, mentoring, and apprenticeship opportunities.

“I chose DVC to support my transfer aspirations.”

“I wish there were more job connections.”

Engagement Session Theme #7

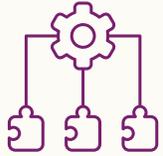

Program Viability, Resource Alignment, and Budget Priorities

- Align resources and budgets with strategic priorities and future-focused goals.
- Strengthen program review and viability processes to support timely decision-making.
- Create space to invest in high-impact initiatives by thoughtfully sunseting lower-impact activities.
- Increase transparency and understanding of budget processes and constraints.

Engagement Session Theme #8

Data Culture, Infrastructure, and Institutional Effectiveness

- Build a campuswide culture of data to support planning, equity, and continuous improvement.
- Expand access to consistent, timely, and accurate data through dashboards and standardized definitions.
- Provide data literacy training so employees can confidently interpret and apply data.

“Confusing processes and hard to find information on the website causes frustration.”

Students would like “better safety at night”.

Engagement Session Theme #9

Institutional Culture, Employee Capacity, and Professional Learning

- Foster a culture that encourages innovation, shared leadership, and continuous learning.
- Support employees through clear priorities and sustainable expectations.
- Show more faculty and classified staff appreciation.
- Strengthen onboarding, cross-training, and professional development opportunities.
- Improve communication and collaboration across departments and campuses.

Engagement Session Theme #10

Community Partnerships & External Engagement

- Strengthen and expand coordinated partnerships with K–12 schools, local businesses, and community organizations to support student pathways and workforce needs.
- Build more consistent systems for internships, career connections, and community engagement opportunities.
- Leverage communication tools to improve outreach, collaboration, and continuity with external partners.
- Develop community education, non-credit programs, and short-term workforce training as strategic opportunities to broaden access and regional impact.

Students would like “more on-campus jobs”.

Students would like “more connections to local job opportunities”.

Trends in Higher Education

Trends in Higher Education – National Level

- The perceived value of higher education will continue to be closely tied to workforce relevance and economic mobility, requiring colleges to clearly articulate outcomes and pathways to careers and transfer.
- Employers and students—particularly working adults—are seeking short-term, flexible credential pathways aligned with in-demand skills.
- Employers are prioritizing demonstrated skills and competencies over degrees alone.
- Student enrollment is gradually rebounding following pandemic-related declines, with participation patterns continuing to evolve.
- Dual enrollment will continue to expand, increasing expectations for seamless transitions from high school to college.
- Student populations are becoming more diverse in age, background, and life circumstance, requiring colleges to adapt programs, services, and teaching practices.
- Students expect flexible learning options, including online and accelerated formats that support learning anytime, anywhere.
- Artificial intelligence (AI) is reshaping the economy and workforce, driving expanded use of AI in instruction, student support, and career preparation.

Trends in Higher Education – State Level

- Student success and equitable outcomes will remain central to statewide policy, with continued emphasis on access, completion, and post-college outcomes for California Community College students.
- Reducing the cost of education and time to degree will continue to be a priority for students, families, and policymakers, driving demand for efficient pathways and clear program maps.
- Advancing CCCCO Vision 2030 goals will remain a key expectation, requiring colleges to build on prior progress and accelerate improvement in equity and completion.
- Basic needs support will remain essential, with sustained focus on addressing food, housing, and financial insecurity as critical components of student success.
- Career education will continue to expand statewide, with growing emphasis on credit and noncredit short-term certificates aligned with regional workforce needs.
- Regional collaboration in workforce development will increase, encouraging colleges to coordinate programs and avoid duplication while meeting labor market demand.
- Improving math and English readiness will remain critical, particularly to close equity gaps and support timely completion.
- Simplifying and integrating academic and student support pathways will remain a priority, especially as the SCFF hold-harmless period has ended and colleges must increase outcomes to sustain funding.

A group of people in a modern office setting. A man with curly hair, wearing a blue denim shirt and a backpack, is gesturing with his right hand while speaking. He is looking towards a woman with long dark hair, wearing a white sweater and a white hair clip, who is smiling and looking at him. Another woman in a red top is partially visible on the right side of the frame, looking towards the man. The background shows a modern office interior with large windows, a white pillar, and a ceiling with wooden slats.

Challenges and Opportunities

Statewide

CHALLENGES

- Increasing student demand for access to learning anytime, anywhere
- Increasing competition for general course enrollment due to the availability of online courses
- Rising employer and student demand for more affordable, time-efficient educational pathways
- Declining public perception of the value of higher education
- Continuing digital divide based on income and location
- Increasing cost of education is impacting student enrollment decisions

OPPORTUNITIES

- Continued commitment to Vision 2030 – focus on equity in access, success, and support
- Continued expansion of workforce and career technical education (CTE) programs, with growing emphasis on short-term certificates and career-aligned pathways
- Expanded access to California Virtual Campus (CVC), providing high-quality online and cross-college learning opportunities
- Rapid growth of Artificial Intelligence (AI) is reshaping pedagogy, instructional practices, and the student learning experience
- Strong demand for noncredit curriculum and flexible scheduling to support working adults
- Continued focus on dual enrollment, transfer simplification, and financial aid support

Regional/County

CHALLENGES

- In Contra Costa County, projected decline over the next decade in residents under age 19 and high school graduate, affecting traditional DVC enrollment patterns
- Approximately 40% of Bay Area students in grades 3–8 and 11 are not proficient in English language arts, affecting preparedness for postsecondary education.
- Expansion of CTE programs across regional community colleges is intensifying competition for students and employer partnerships.
- Nearly one-quarter of Bay Area adults (ages 25+) lack the credentials needed for middle-skill occupations.*
- Healthcare dominates job postings in Contra Costa County
- A small number of employers account for the majority of Bay Area job openings

OPPORTUNITIES

- In Contra Costa County, significant population growth is projected in the 25–34 age group over the next decade
- Just over half of county residents ages 25 and older hold an associate degree or higher, indicating both educational momentum and opportunity for continued attainment
- Growing regional emphasis on CTE and short-term certificate programs reflects demand for applied and workforce-aligned pathways

Collegewide

CHALLENGES

- Financial pressures, basic needs insecurity, access to mental health support, and limited awareness of services continue to affect retention and completion
- Many students experience limited connection to campus life, particularly across campuses and student populations
- Persistent access and success gaps remain across student groups
- Fragmented onboarding, advising, and information systems make it difficult for students to navigate their pathways
- Aligning schedules with student demand, developing coordinated schedules across disciplines, and aligning with SCFF requirements remains challenging
- Ensuring programs remain relevant, viable, and aligned with workforce and transfer needs requires ongoing attention
- Inconsistent data systems and limited access to data adversely affect planning and decision-making
- Competing priorities affect the college's ability to implement change sustainably

OPPORTUNITIES

- Expand integrated academic, basic needs, and mental health support services to strengthen persistence and completion
- Enhance student life, engagement opportunities, and cross-campus integration to foster a welcoming campus culture and build community
- Institutionalize equity goals, shared definitions, and professional learning to close access and success gaps
- Expand data dashboards, provide shared metrics to a wider group, and provide data literacy training
- Use Guided Pathways to create a clear, coherent student experience from entry through completion; improve coordination across interest areas, centers, and services
- Align enrollment strategies with the SCFF model, strengthen student-centered scheduling and dual enrollment pathways, and improve scheduling tools and data access
- Grow workforce, transfer, non-credit, and short-term programs aligned with labor market needs
- Develop internship, apprenticeship, and credit for prior learning opportunities
- Deepen education, industry, and community partnerships
- Use program viability and budget transparency to invest in high-impact priorities
- Strengthen employee onboarding, professional learning, and cross-functional collaboration

Table Discussions (3)

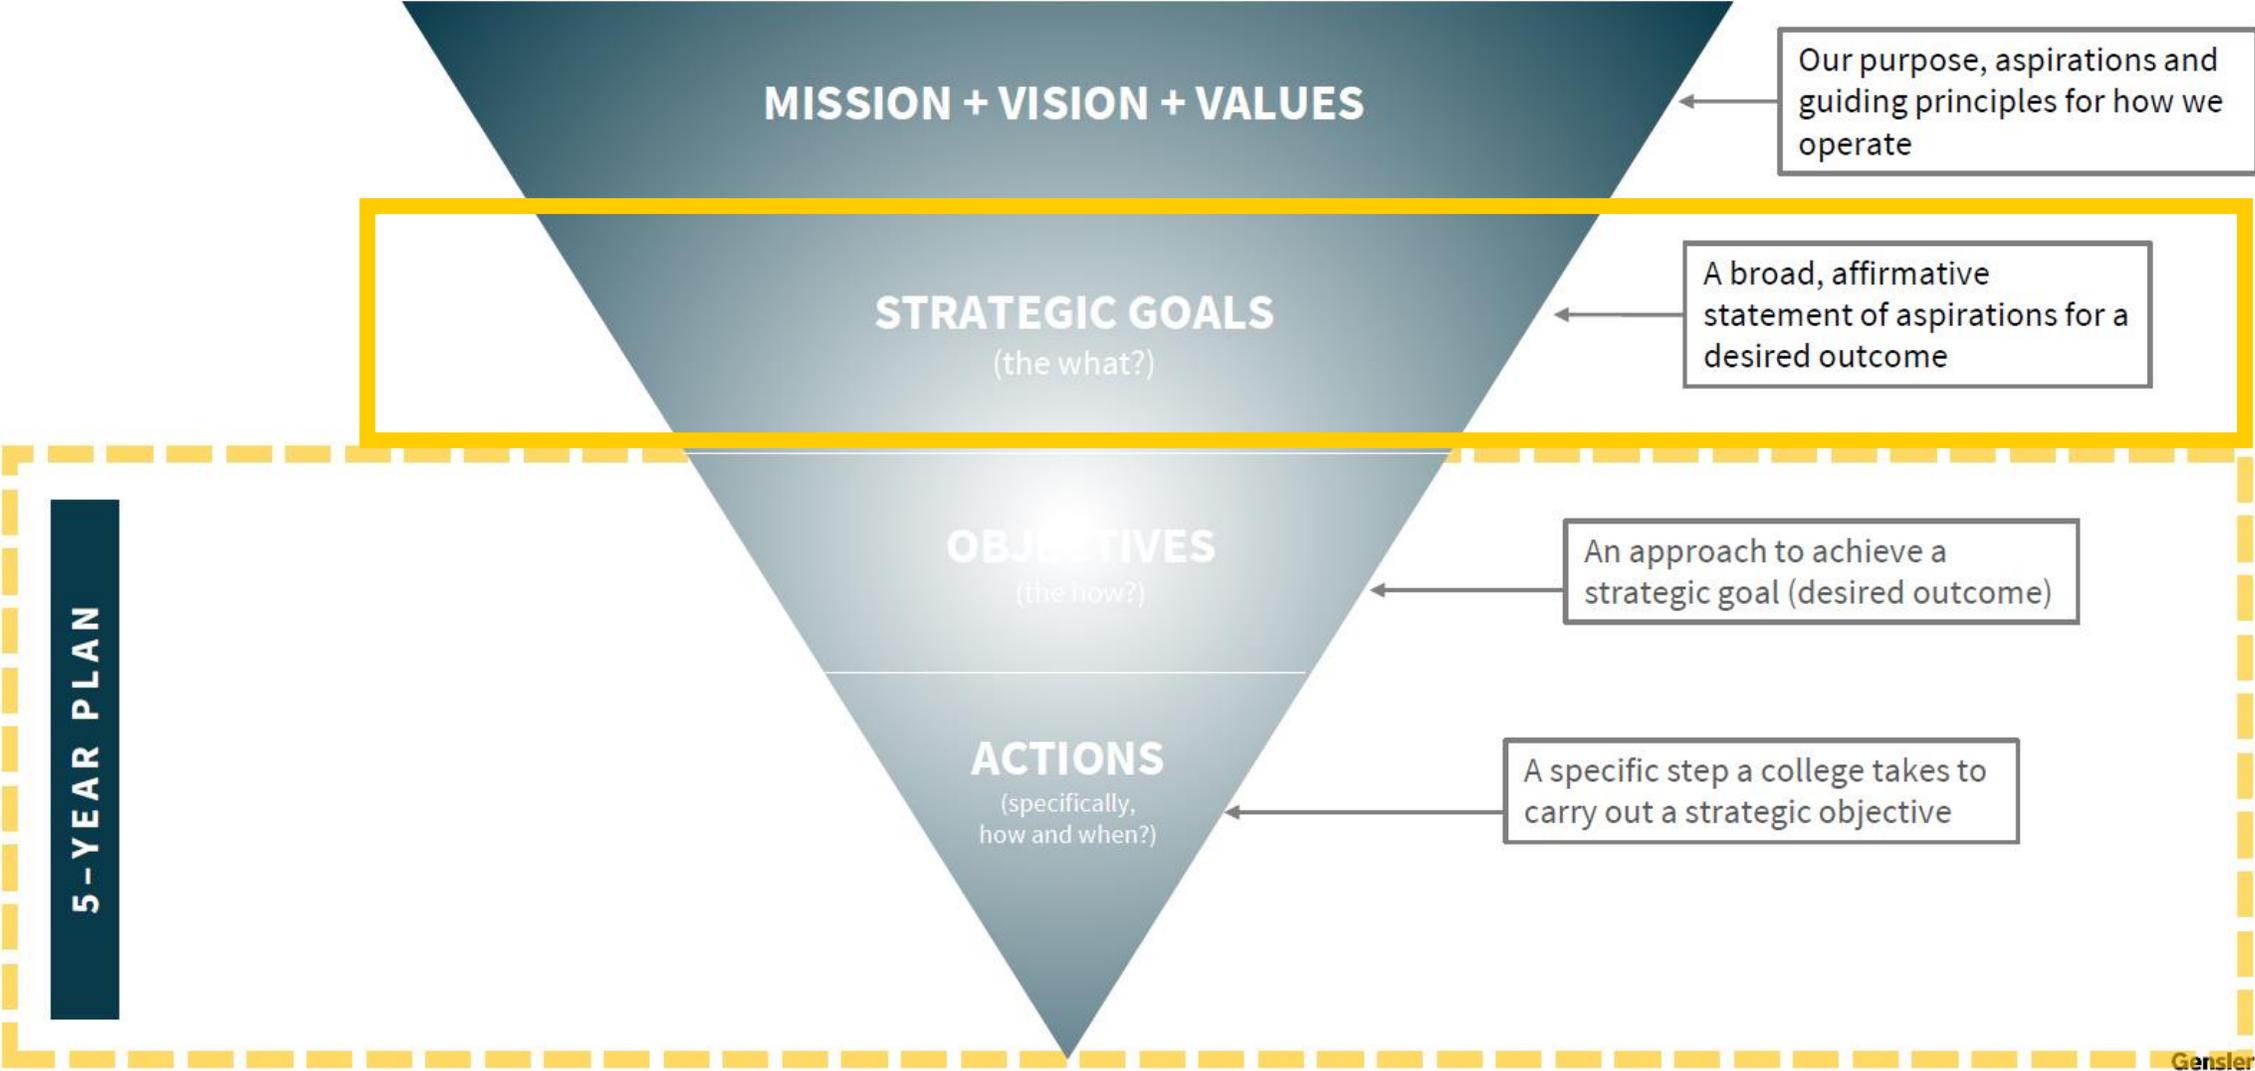

A young man with dark hair, wearing a blue hoodie, is shown in profile, looking intently at a laptop screen. He is in a classroom or computer lab, with other students and computer monitors visible in the background, which is softly blurred. The lighting is bright and even.
